About NIU Program:

Our Hospitality and Tourism Management Program prepares you for an exciting career in a global industry. You'll gain cutting-edge knowledge of hotel operations, food service, and meeting and event management. You'll also learn about the industry's complex business environment. You can choose from two study areas: hotel management or restaurant, meeting and event management. Both will prepare you for entry-level management positions and for graduate work. If you have an associate in applied science (A.A.S.) degree, you can take advantage of our convenient online B.S. degree completion program. To get started, apply to NIU as a transfer student.

About JJC's Program:

Translate your love of food, travel and working with people into an exciting career in the Hospitality industry! By integrating courses in business, hospitality and culinary, JJC's Hospitality A.A.S. degree will give you the competitive edge by helping you develop the management skills and hospitality training needed to successfully obtain an entry-level or supervisory management position. As the second leading employer in the nation, the hospitality industry provides a variety of career options with one degree. Students can prepare for careers in restaurants, hotels, casinos, special events and meeting planning. Students wanting to further their education can transfer with ease to several accredited four-year institutions.
